

Petersfield to Buriton and back (5.2 miles)

A walk through a mixture of woods, open fields and farmland from Petersfield to the village of Buriton, with its picture postcard pond and village church, and back again. On the way to Buriton you get views of Buster Hill. Although the outward and return legs look very close together on the map, they offer surprisingly different views and landscapes.

The walk is generally flat or undulating with one very short steep section near the beginning.

Starting point: Festival Hall car park, Heath Road, Petersfield
